

Hanging in the Balance.

The race for judge in this district, between John Y. Hewitt and Edward L. Medler, is still hanging in the balance. One day, according to reports, Judge Hewitt is ahead, the next it is contradicted. It is a kind of will o' the wisp—sometimes you see it, then, again, you don't. Incomplete and unofficial returns give Judge Hewitt one majority, and the Judge's friends in Lincoln county are clinging to that majority like grim death; for there has been so much meddling that the people don't want to see a Medler on the bench.

County Seat Hearing.

Definite news has reached here from Washington that the county seat case will be heard by the United States Supreme Court in 1913. That is really earlier than we anticipated; for, as a rule, our highest tribunal is from three to four years behind on the docket. However, the courts of New Mexico with a scratch of the pen could end the difficulty; the court case could be finished and the case forgotten before the United States Supreme Court reaches case. Will they do it?

Get The Return Post Card Habit

During the past six months the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration has used thousands of return postal cards both in the correspondence of the Bureau and in supplying these cards to business houses and individuals in the state, who are using them in their correspondence. The return post card used by the Bureau is addressed on the front to the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration, Albuquerque. On the back it has space for five names and addresses with a brief request that persons receiving the card return it to the Bureau with the names and addresses of persons desiring information about New Mexico.

In this way the Bureau has been placed in touch with thousands of people who never would have been reached by New Mexico advertising otherwise. Quite a number of these people have actually come to New Mexico, located here and made investments in the state. The postal cards have paid for themselves a thousand times over. Not only have they brought direct results, but they have started an endless chain of advertising which is constantly bringing in new lists of people to the Bureau.

It takes but an instant to insert one of these cards in your mail going out of the state. The result may be that this small effort on your part will bring new people and new money into the state. Get the return post card habit. The Bureau of Immigration will furnish any number of these cards desired and will see that you are kept supplied. Every one of these cards you use in correspondence means one more blow in the behalf of Greater New Mexico.

Write to the Bureau of Immigration, Albuquerque, N. M.

Returns to be Canvassed Monday.

Owing to the peculiar provisions of the constitution, which prevented the boards of county commissioners of the several counties from canvassing the election returns, the official count will not be made until Monday, at Santa Fe. In the meantime, the unofficial figures show many of the state, as well as county, offices to be so close that many of the contestants are on the anxious seat.
